

SMALLER FRY HAD WARRANTS CASHED

Treasurer Campbell disbursed a large amount of money yesterday when he cashed warrants between Nos. 11,000 and 16,000. It had been his intention to redeem all warrants, but as the banks held a large quantity of the paper, he requested these institutions to wait until today so as to give the smaller holders of warrants an opportunity to cash in, in order that they might pay their taxes.

CLERKS ALSO CAN'T WORK

Sheriff Henry says that clerks in the big wholesale and commission houses are included in the crusade against working on Sunday. Many of the clerks of the large business firms of this city work a couple of hours every Sunday morning. This will all be stopped, Mr. Henry believes that an accountant needs a day of rest just as much as does a day laborer, and while law is in force he (Henry) will see that it is lived up to.

Police News.

There was plenty doing in the police court yesterday. The Chinese gamblers arrested last Friday, whom A. S. Humphreys claimed to be defending and whose cases were postponed till yesterday to suit his convenience, decided to plead guilty. They were fined $7 and costs each. A few forfeited bail, fearing the worst, and are out $25 instead. Anderson Grace, a negro, was fined $10 for slapping a white woman's face. It seems that the fellow has been providing for her and was trying at the time to keep her from drinking. As usual the case of Harry Mossman was continued, this time until the 18th.
